Sue Ryder Thorpe Hall Hospice

When someone is dealing with a terminal illness or the loss of a loved one, Sue Ryder Thorpe Hall Hospice is there when it matters, supporting them through the most difficult times of their lives. As well as its specialist 20-bed inpatient unit, the hospice gives care in people's own homes through its Hospice at Home team. The hospice looks after the whole family, offering emotional, spiritual and practical care and bereavement support through its family support team too.

Our expert care for patients and support for families are free to all. As a charity we rely on the generosity of supporters to help raise the funds we need to continue providing our expert care. Please speak to the hospice fundraising team to find out how you can make your time in the dragon boat count.
